Intermediates Hook Up With Southern Manitoba Hockey

Mat. Parker, of Treherne, was elected President of the new South Central Intermediate Hockey League, at a meeting held in Treherne recently. Dalton Barkwell, also of Treherne, was named Secretary, with an Executive consisting of Ken. Hartwell, of Swan Lake, C. Bigelow, Holland, Dr. Hurton, Glenboro, and Clare Tarr, of MacGregor. There will be five teams in the League—MacGregor, Treherne, Holland, Glenboro, and Swan Lake. The League will swing into action as soon as ice conditions permit. The schedule is now in the process of being drawn up, but it is difficult to get a start on this while the unusually-mild weather persists.

It is quite a few years since MacGregor played hockey with teams "across the river", but we can still remember the trips we had back in the early 30's to Swan Lake and other points in that vicinity—there were no roads in the winter time: you were obliged to go by the best route you could find across the river. Now, however, we have a new highway from Austin, crossing the Assiniboine at the old Rae's Ferry and then on into Holland on No. 2 Highway.

This new League should provide plenty of good hockey entertainment for local fans—the one redeeming feature of it will be that MacGregor fans will have something new in competition.

The League was formed along the same lines as last year's Central Manitoba League. The five teams will play a double schedule—that is a home and away game with each of the other four teams. Present plans are for the leading scorer of the League to receive recognition in some manner. This will be announced later on in the season.

As this issue goes to press prospects for an early start are not too bright. The weatherman still continues to hold up rink flooding. But, if we know Manitoba, things will change in an awful hurry and hockey will descend upon us almost overnight. Watch these columns for the schedule—we should have some good hockey in MacGregor this winter.
